

S1_email_Nurul Shafiqah Syahfinaz

Subject: Esteemed Marketing Department,

I trust this email reaches you in good health.

Upon reviewing IHH Healthcare's 2024 report, I like to emphasise some critical sustainability aspects that could enhance future marketing communications. The study indicates that IHH Healthcare remains committed to its mission of "Care. For Good." by enhancing patient care, supporting its workforce, and minimising environmental impact.

A significant highlight is IHH's enhancement of patient-centered treatment. The organization elevated its value-driven outcomes quality indicators from 113 to 202 and granted over 8 million patients internet access to their medical records. This reinforces a compelling marketing narrative around digital healthcare, openness, and patient empowerment.

A significant aspect is IHH's investment in human capital. In 2024, the corporation recorded over 1.2 million training hours, a 14% increase in nursing personnel relative to its 2022 baseline, and 49% of leadership positions occupied by women. These accomplishments demonstrate IHH's dedication to employee development, inclusivity, and sustainable employment practices.

IHH has also advanced in environmental stewardship. The company decreased emissions intensity per patient bed day by 3.2% and accomplished over a 90% reduction in single-use virgin plastics in non-clinical sectors across many markets. These elements can establish IHH as a healthcare provider committed to environmental sustainability.

I recommend that the marketing message emphasises IHH as a responsible healthcare organization that integrates quality care, innovation, employee development, and environmental stewardship. These topics are explicit, affirmative, and appropriate for conveying IHH's environmental initiatives to the public.

Thank you.

Kind regards,
Nurul Shafiqah Syahfinaz Binti Sahabu